- landing gear
- one transporter pad (for emergencies)
- one escape pod
- ladders, no turbolifts
- various probes

NOTES

As of 2266, the Archer-class scout vessels (named in honor of early Earth explorer Jonathan Archer) represent some of the newest, most advanced technology in Starfleet. In service for less than a decade, they are among the first ships to feature modular components, making it possible to rapidly reconfigure the ship for different mission profiles. Capable of extended high-warp travel, the small vessel is also very fast and highly maneuverable at impulse. It relies on its reduced sensor profile, agility, and celerity for its defense.

Because of its limited crew capacity, personnel who serve aboard Archer-class ships must be cross-trained in at least two professional disciplines essential to onboard and mission operations. Duties are often shared by several personnel; one crewmember might serve in two or three departments during the course of a weekly duty cycle.

THE CREW

The following members of the Sagittarius's crew are profiled in detail in the original series bible for Star Trek Vanguard. Here are additional details about their special cross-training.

Commanding Officer

Captain (Adelard) Nassir, Deltan male
Tactical, warp engineering, cryptology

First Officer

Commander Clark Terrell, Human male
Tactical, xenobiology, impulse systems

Chief Medical Officer

Dr. Lisa Babitz M.D., Human female
Medicine & surgery, dentistry, piloting

Chief Engineer

MCPO Mike "Mad Man" Ilucci, Human male
Starship engineering, demolitions, martial arts

Science Officer

Ensign Vanessa Theriault, Human female (Mars native)
Astrophysics, xenology, linguistics, piloting, geology. Hobby: Knitting.

The following represents the rest of the ship's crew,
as of Vanguard #3 Reap the Whirlwind.

Second Officer

Lt. Commander Bridget McLellan, human female (Deneva)
Known to the rest of the crew as "Bridy Mac," she is a lean woman of pale and angular beauty. Her areas of expertise include computer science, flight operations, and combat tactics. She has run several marathons, and her off-duty hours are often spent running on a treadmill in sickbay while designing computer programs in her head.

Security / Field Scout

SCPO Razka, Saurian male

Approximately 35 years old, he is very young for a Saurian. He's been in Starfleet for 17 years, and his courage, ingenuity, and leadership skills have enabled him to rise quickly through the ranks of non-commissioned officers. He can see in the normal spectrum of visible light as well as in the infrared spectrum. He has gills and can respire underwater. In addition to his skills as a marksman and martial-artist, he has medical training equivalent to a paramedic and a master's degree in physics.

Helm Officer/Navigator

Lieutenant Celerasayna zh'Firro, Andorian zhen

Perfectionist. Aggressive as a pilot, as a sports competitor, as a lover. Her long-form poetry has been published on Andor, to critical acclaim but limited public notice. Skilled in gymnastics. Hobbies include cooking alien cuisines, especially Vulcan and Terran, and reading alien poetry. Other professional skills: warp engineering, sensor diagnostics, computer programming. Plans to marry on Andor, but "dates" several men and women.

Nurse/Medical Technician

Ensign Nguyen Tan Bao, human male (Vietnam)

Dr. Babitz's right hand. Maintains medical equipment, handles triage during emergencies, performs basic first aid, assists during surgery. Trained in wilderness survival, zero g operations, spelunking, mountaineering, diving. Sometimes accompanies field scouts on hazardous landing missions. Teaching himself to play the harmonica (at night, in a remote corner of the cargo bay, behind some insulated crates). Popular with the ladies.

(Actor Template: Dustin Nguyen)

Senior Engineer's Mate

PO1 Salagho Threx, Denobulan male

Like most Denobulans, he doesn't sleep much. Works long shifts repairing and upgrading systems throughout the ship. Boasts he could take apart the whole ship in an afternoon and have it back together and flying that night. Big, beefy, and hairy, he's from a subculture with no nudity taboo—much to his crewmates' chagrin. Sings in his native language; his voice sounds beautiful, but the translated lyrics are crude and pornographic.

(Actor Template: W. Earl Brown)

Engineer's Mate

PO2 Karen Cahow, human female (Terra Nova)

Know-it-all. Grew up on merchant ships. Has a knack for fixing things, but never the way the manuals suggest. Trained as a shuttle pilot, a medic, and a computer technician before becoming a starship mechanic. Specializes in transporter systems. Is an only child; hates sharing quarters, but has learned to cope. Has a phobia about being on planets; has spent most of her life in space. Has never fired a phaser in combat, only in basic training.

(Actor Template: Allison Mack)

Engineer's Mate

Crewman Torvin, Tiburonian male

Superior hearing enables him to detect minuscule malfunctions in a variety of onboard systems, sometimes more quickly and with greater specificity than his colleagues using tricorders. Young, nerdy, enthusiastic, harboring a desperate and ultimately futile crush on zh'Firro. Commiserates during shore leaves with Chief Ilucci, whose own crush on Theriault is equally doomed. "We're just tool-pushers," the engineers lament.

(Actor Template: Justin Long)

Lead Scout / Security Chief

Lieutenant Sorak, Vulcan male

IDIC in action. Excels at stealthy observation on alien planets. Wilderness survival expert. Trained in medicine, archaeology, and xenobotany. Has completed the Kolinahr ritual on Vulcan. One hundred eighteen years old, and a fifty-six-year Starfleet veteran. Tri-level chess grand master. Best vegan cook on the ship. Married with four children. Rarely speaks, except to deliver necessary reports. Has an unnerving stare. Holds an M.D. and two Ph.D.s.

(Actor Template: Terence Stamp)

Field Scout/Security

Lieutenant Niwara, Caitian female [KIA on Jinoteur]

A loner by nature. Likes to explore planets by herself, remains out of contact for several days at a time. Skilled at wilderness survival, foraging, hunting, tracking. Excellent night vision and keen hearing, acute olfactory sense. Her homeworld is near Tholian space, has skirmished with them, so she is suspicious of Tholians. Knows how to whittle and sculpt soft stone. Dislikes swimming, but knows how.
